Voters nix merger

Voters in Dists. 10 and 36 turned down the referendum on the merger of the Lotus and Grass Lake School Dists. on Nov. 6.

The referendum met a smashing defeat, 37 percent voting for it and 62.17 voting against it.

With 950 electors at Lotus and 1,150 at Grass Lake, 664 voted for it and 1,061 against it.

Both school boards and teachers from Lotus and Grass Lake had endorsed the merger.

Although Lotus parents as a whole were for the merger because of decreasing enrollment and a growing financial problem at that school, the same was not true of many of the Grass Lake parents.

A large group of concerned parents at the Grass Lake Grade School and many members of the school's PTA, have held several meetings to question the rush of the proposal and reasons for it.

Many objected to the projected tax hike at Grass Lake for "something that will not benefit us."

Grass Lake parents objected to having their primary grade children bused to Lotus over a bridge that is sometimes dangerous in bad weather.

The teachers endorsed the classroom consolidation making classrooms slightly smaller, saying it would mean more individual attention for the children.

Lake County School Supt. Bill Thompson reportedly told Grass Lake parents that in the future school merging will be quite prevalent in the county because of lessening enrollment and the decreasing of state aid and some schools may be forced to do it.

Most Antioch voters go GOP all the way Nov. 6

Antioch voters went one step further than the rest of the country by going Republican all the way in the Nov. 6 election besides their strong backing the Reagan-Bush ticket.

They backed one favorite son by putting Antioch Township Chairman Jim Fields back on the county board but Bob Gesiakowski, the other Antioch resident running for election, bowed to long-time State Sen. Adeline Geo-Karis (R-Zion).

In fact most Antioch voters abided by the signs all over town that touted Fields-Popp-Churchill, by also returning Fred Popp of Lake Villa to the county board and Robert Churchill to the house of representatives.

Evidently the majority of Antioch residents weren't influenced by Democrat Michael Duffy's revelation of Antioch residents asking for leniency for convicted drug smuggler Bill Haley, because they returned his opponent State's Atty' Fred Foreman to office.

The wife of an Antioch attorney, Barbara Lumber did not win a county board seat. Whether or not the fact that her husband James Lumber, who was honorary campaign chairman for Duggy, also wrote for Haley's leniency was a factor in her loss is not known.

Before the election Lumber was a good bet to unseat Popp despite the fact that she was running on the Democratic ticket in pro-Republican Lake County.

Antioch votes were also a strong factor in the victories of other Republican Lake County incumbents Circuit Court Clerk Sally Coffelt, Coroner Barbara Richardson and Recorder Frank Nustra.

The all-time record vote also returned U.S. Congressman Phil Crane and Lake County Judge Charles Scott to their offices.

No closed shop

ACHS teachers get 9% hike

by GLORIA DAVIS

As expected, the Board of Education of the Antioch Community High School ratified the teachers' contracts that had been under negotiation since this summer, negotiations which almost led to a teachers' strike.

By a vote of four to two, the contracts were ratified at a special board meeting on Nov. 8, giving the teachers a nine percent salary increase for each of the two years of the contract.

Voting for ratification were Board President Robert Lindblad, Betty Meyer, Charles Forster and Glen Moore.

Voting against ratification were Frank Walsh and Julie Portalski.

On Nov. 1, the teachers ratified the contract agreement made at a special negotiations meeting held on Oct. 21.

The board was under a lot of pressure to come to an agreement with the teachers after a crowded public meeting held on Oct. 18 at which parents and students called for an understanding to be reached, warding off the impending teachers' strike.

The first proposal made by the teachers called for a 15 percent salary increase which in reality was a 33 percent increase when figured on the basis of the 76 teachers, because the teachers union was including the salaries of department chairmen.

According to the administration, these chairman are part of administration, although some are members of the union.

At the time of the public meeting the board's offer was eight percent for the first year and seven-and-one-half percent for the next.

The teachers were asking for 10.3 percent for each year.

The other main point of disagreement, that of having a closed union shop at the school went the board's way. There will be no closed shop since all teachers do not have to belong to the union.

The teachers also received a nine percent increment raise for salaries of coaches etc.

The teachers received a raise in the reimbursement for each new credit earned from $50 to $70 per credit.

Their pay for attending summer school was raised from $11 to $12 per hour.

Scouts to sell popcorn

James C. Chapman, president of the Northeast Illinois Council, Boy Scouts of America, has announced that Northeast Illinois Council will sell Trail's End Gourmet Popcorn from Nov. 1 through 17 throughout the North Shore and Lake County areas of the council.

Proceeds from the council-wide sale will be used to benefit the Scouting activities of the local council, as well as individual Scouting units.

S. Clark Kendall, Scout executive for the Northeast Illinois Council, indicated the second annual sale of a product by the combined Scouting organization was prompted by a growing need for supplemental income to finance Scouting activities for the council, as well as individual Scouting units.

Escalating program costs, the need for camp equipment and maintenance, as well as continued growth in youth participation, have prompted the executive board of the council to seek additional sources of support.

Chapman emphasized the primary income for Scouting activities will continue to come from community support through the United Way and from the Sustaining Membership Enrollment Program of the council.

Trail's End Gourmet Popcorn was selected because it is a quality product with wide appeal. Popcorn is a great tasting, fun-to-make, wholesome, nutritional snack that the whole family can enjoy.

The projected income from the popcorn sale will serve as a supplemental source of funding for the council for 1984, Chapman stated. The income objective of $30,000, which represents the council share of the proceeds serve as a primary source of income for the youth activities of many Scouting units in the council.

"The Trail's End Gourmet Popcorn Sale provides another means of Scouting through the purchase of a popular, high quality product," stated Kendall.

Last year the Northeast

Illinois Council sold 17,500 buckets of Trail's End Popcorn and raised $35,000 for council and local unit activities.

"We appreciate the support that our Scouting activities have received from the community and wish to express our thanks to everyone who participated," said Kendall.

Diabetes Series

Victory Memorial Hospital will continue its free "Living with Diabetes" series with a 7-8 p.m. Nov. 8 program on "Diabetes Update." Diabetics, their families and friends are invited to attend the discussion at the hospital, 1324 N. Sheridan Rd., Waukegan.

No registration is needed. Each topic is presented by a registered nurse or a registered dietitian and is designed to help diabetics maintain an optimal level of health. For more information, call (312) 578-4148.

Jennerich plays Results real good ball

Steve Jennerich of Lake Villa, Antioch High School graduate, an outside linebacker for the Elmhurst College Bluejays, had a good day defensively and led the team in tackles in a 26-14 win over the Redmen of Carthage.

The 6 foot, 210 pound defensive stalwart had 12 total tackles on the day and also was part of a crucial quarterback sack late in the game to preserve the Jay lead.

He had two solo tackles and was in on 10 others, including the sack. A senior, he moved to linebacker this year after being a member of the defensive line (Jay-Wall) last year.

The move has been very good for the team as it strengthened the linebacking corps and made the defense stronger overall. For the year he is fourth on the team in tackles, but is the only member of the defense who has done everything statistically, from making tackles to recovering fumbles, intercepting passes and sacking the quarterbacks.

"I think Steve played an excellent game Saturday," said head coach Bruce Hoffman. "He graded out very well, has some excellent stops and made just about every play that came his way."

"He has made as good an adjustment in the transition to his new position as I've ever seen a player make. He's adjusted well to dropping into pass coverage rather than rushing the quarterback, which is what he is used to doing. He is an excellent player with great character and just the perfect reflection of what a team captain and linebacker should be," he added.

An information systems major, he is the son of Wilfred and Ethel Jennerich of 39357 North Hwy. 59 in Lake Villa.

Historical donations on the increase lately

A sudden upsurge in donations of articles to the Lakes Region Historical Society has begun to fill the acquisitions room at the Old School Museum. The first of these was a contribution of metal shelving by the owners of the Antioch Drug Store.

This has enabled the committee to begin the sorting and shelving of the papers and documents which had been in storage at the Antioch Township Library.

At the September meeting of the Historical Society, Debbie O'Connor and Kathleen Kennedy of the Antioch Jaycee Women presented the society with the state flag which their organization had been awarded at the state convention in Springfield.

It had flown over the capitol during the May week-end when the convention was in session.

Also at the September meeting, Harlan Ware, principal of the Lower Grade School, gave into the society's keeping attendance records from the turn of the century.

The Teacher's Daily Registers cover the years of the one room school from 1887 until the brick building replaced in 1892. From that year until 1914 the books cover attendance of both the grade school and the high school which occupied a room on the upper floor of the "Old School."

During October, the society received several articles from a local citizen who presented them in memory of her mother. These included an oak cupboard with a stained glass door, a pedal sewing machine, and an early Oliver typewriter.

Also during October, the society was presented with a large mural from the First National Bank. This will provide a valuable back-drop for items of local interest, probably in the entry hall.

While attention has been focused on the outside of the building during the erection of the bell tower, work continued on the inside. Much of the damaged plaster has been removed and broken window panes have been replaced.

The speaker at the October meeting was Jan Smith, curator of the Lake County Museum. She provided the audience with valuable information on the care and conservation of museum artifacts.

No meeting will be held in November as the regular meeting day falls on Thanksgiving. The next meeting will take place on Dec. 6.

Legion sponsors contest for high school orators

High school students are invited by the American Legion to compete in the 48th Annual Oratorical Contest. The contest is approved by the Illinois High School Assn., the State Superintendent of Education and the National Assn. of Secondary School Principals.

The competition is in two parts: a prepared oration and an extemporaneous discourse. The subject to be used for the prepared oration must be on some phase of the Constitution of the United States, emphasizing the duties and obligations of a citizen to the government. It must be the original effort of each contestant and must not require less than eight nor more than 10 minutes to deliver.

The extemporaneous discourse is to be no less than three nor more than five minutes in delivery. The subject is one of six sections of the Constitution of which the contestant has prior knowledge. The section selected is given to the contestant five minutes prior to delivery. Each contestant speaks on the same topic.

Scholarships for the five state finalists range from $400 to $1,000. National Contest finalists vie for scholarships ranging from $1,000 to $16,000. The total of national scholarships to be awarded is $96,000.

The American Legion pays the student's expenses to the state finals and the national contests. The 1985 national finals will be held in Des Moines Iowa, on April 19, 1985.

High school students interested in entering the contests will find complete rules and contest information at Antioch American Legion post 748 at 274 Ida St., Antioch. Contact Cecil Dodd, 277 Lakewood Ave., Antioch.

When I think about it Preholiday dieting goes to the rear, stomach, to grass

by GLORIA DAVIS

The holidays are fast approaching, that time of the year when we all catch that dreaded fat disease "Stuffitis."

Years of weight gain have taught me that my willpower is less than minuscule when faced with mounds of homemade mashed potatoes and gravy, freshly baked pumpkin pies and all those other calorie-laden goodies that surface with a vengeance, along with memories of Priscilla and John Alden, Santa and Christmas Carols.

So this year I decided to make room on my hips for the inevitable by dieting before and in between those seasonal gluttonies.

Now my irrational and impatient personality clashes with all the sensible healthy ways of losing weight, so I perused the menus of the many fad diets that are floating around.

Let's face it, I can hardly ruin my health between now and Thanksgiving.

A lose-10-pounds-in-one-week diet that I had successfully tried a few years ago in an effort to fit in an outgrown special dress came to mind.

This obviously diuretic plan allowed for six, six-ounce glasses of sherry wine a day period. And that's a big period, no water, coffee, food of any kind was to be consumed for one week, only those six lousy glasses of wine.

The way I got through those blurry days was to fill a hip flask with wine so that a little nip was available whenever my stomach started to growl or my mouth felt like the Sahara Desert.

Although the entire town was convinced I was an alcoholic, it worked and I was able to zip that dress up come Saturday evening.

The only problem is I vaguely remember feeling too weak to go out and found myself dragging my starved body to the kitchen to succumb to a double decker pizza at midnight.

This of course got that stagnate digestive machinery going and I couldn't wait to leap out of bed at 8 a.m. and head for a "Lumber Jack's" breakfast at the nearest restaurant.

The result was that those 10 pounds were back in the old familiar places by Monday.

Then there was the popcorn and champagne diet. I never did figure out the plan of this one, whether the bubbles were supposed to go straight to the brain and that light-headed feeling make you feel lighter all over or if a popcorn filled stomach, soggyed-up by the wine, was supposed to fill you up so you couldn't eat anything else.

The only results I got from this one was a stomach ache to match my hangover.

Before you commit me to the nearest alcoholic ward, booze was not always a prerequisite for the many useless fad diets I have embarked on. But I will admit I probably had more fun on those diets.

There was the all you can eat, three day binge diet. This one called for eating bananas, as many as you wanted to for the first day. The next day it was the same with eggs and the third day it was hot dogs.

I figured out that this one relied on the fact that all three items were in the 100 calorie category. It also relied on the fact that the average person just can't down more than 10 bananas or 10 hotdogs in one day, making at a 1,000 calorie diet which most people will lose weight on.

I could only cut eight of the prescribed dosages per day so at 800 calories per diem, plus water loss, I found myself five pounds lighter.

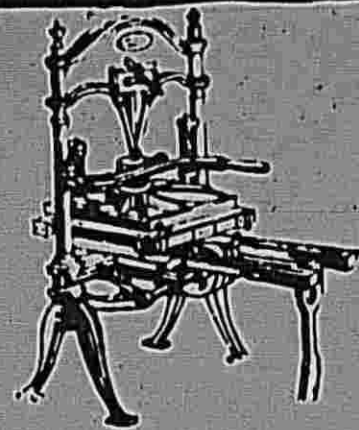

A suspicious extra hair growth and the fact that I had the urge to cackle a lot got me off of this one.

One thing I do know, I can't cope with any of the diets that demand downing beaucoup glasses of water daily. The old aqua mixes with me like it does with oil or did with W. C. Fields.

Having already forced four glasses down, I would find myself gaging and hanging over the kitchen sink at midnight trying to down the rest.

I guess the only thing left is to eat sensibly and utilize the old arm(push away from the table) exercise, but wait, have you ever tried the aloe diet?

That's the one where you eat 22 leaves from the aloe plant everyday. You may not lose any weight but you probably won't have to worry about getting sunburnt!

Satellite communications are coming to CLC campus

A satellite dish receiving system will be installed this fall on the campus of the College of Lake County (CLC) in Grayslake.

The system, purchased for $4,895 from KLM Electronics Inc. will be the first of its kind installed at a community college in northern Illinois.

WE'RE MOVING into a whole new media by getting this satellite dish," reported

Don Drake, Director of Audio-Visual and Television Services.

"With this dish we will be able to pick up 20 to 30 domestic satellites, some of which have up to 24 channels each. This equipment and the programming capability it brings us, will put the College of Lake County at the leading edge of communication technology," he added.

The CLC Board also voted unanimous endorsement of the college's institutional goals for 1984-85.

Included in the goals are:

new approaches for cooperative ventures between CLC and area high schools, businesses and other agencies; continued planning and construction for the new science wing on the Grayslake campus; the development of new strategies to strengthen the relationship between liberal and technical education; and the further development of the Institute of Contractual and Special Programs as a means of meeting the educational needs of military personnel.

Dr. Thain receives ABFP recertification

Dr. Alan L. Thain of Antioch, has been recertified as a diplomate of the American Board of Family Practice (ABFP) as a result of passing a recertification examination offered by the ABFP.

The physician thus maintains specialist status in the medical specialty of family practice.

ABFP diplomates must continue to show proof of competence in the field of comprehensive, continuing care of the family by being recertified every six years. Family practice was the first medical specialty to require diplomates to be recertified on a continuing basis.

The written examination is designed to prove the candidate's continuing competence in the basic components of family practice—internal medicine, surgery, obstetrics and gynecology, pediatrics, psychiatry and neurology, and community medicine.

To qualify for certification initially—a physician—must have successfully completed three years of residency training in family practice and passed an intensive certification examination. There are some 385 residency training programs in teaching hospitals and university medical centers across the United States.

There now have been certified more than 29,000 diplomates in the specialty. Most are members of the American Academy of Family Physicians, the national association of family doctors. The Academy was the first national medical group to require members to take continuing study, and was chiefly responsible for securing specialty status for family practice.

Sturgill mystery prevails

What happened to Trudy Potts Sturgill? The answer to that question is still being sought ever since she was found in the early morning hours on Saturday, March 19, 1983.

At around 7:45 a.m. the police received a call about a woman lying under the bridge of the Desplaines River at Rte. 120. When the police arrived at the location they found the lifeless body of Trudy Sturgill partially submerged in the water.

She was 42 years old, about five feet tall, with brown hair and weighed 105 pounds. The official cause of death was listed as exposure but how she got to Rte. 120 and the Desplaines River and why she was left there is still a mystery.

She was last seen leaving the Rainbow Lounge located on Washington St. in downtown Waukegan at about 8 p.m. the previous night in the company of an unknown male/black individual.

What happened to Trudy Potts Sturgill between 8 p.m.

and 7:45 a.m. has never been answered.

Anyone having information about this crime or any felony crime or felony fugitive, contact Lake County Crime Stoppers at (312) 662-2222. If the call is long distance, call collect. If the information results in an arrest and indictment, they will become eligible for a cash reward of up to $1,000. Remember, Crime Stoppers wants information, not names.

PM&L's 'Too Late' to open

"Another Opening, another Show!" and this time it's "Never Too Late" at the PM&L Theatre, 877 Main St., Antioch on Nov. 16, 17, 23, 24, 30 and Dec. 1 at 8:30 p.m. and Nov. 25 a Sunday matinee at 2:30 p.m.

"Never Too Late" by Sumner Arthur Long is a former Broadway smash hit about a married man in his 50's (Gerry Mandel from Fox Lake) who suddenly learns he's becoming a father again.

His last child, a girl, (Tracy Kiederlen from Antioch) was born 24 years ago, and considering the boob she married (Peter Thelen from Antioch) he finds the prospect of another child unthinkable, as his daughter and son-in-law are still living with him.

Daughter gets up for breakfast at lunch time, and son-in-law is curiously addicted to solitaire. But it's not only the impending birth that startles him. His previously meek little wife (Ricky Apostol from Antioch) begins to lay down the law. There's to be a nursery, a new bath (essential props on stage—a tub and a toilet,) and she's to have her own checking account.

Be sure to call (312) 395-

3055 for reservations to assure a seat for the night of your choice. First nighters will be able to share a celebration with the cast after the show. This is becoming a very popular event on opening night.

Mini passes are available at the box office as are regular tickets for the show. Prices for general admission are $4.50 for adults and $3.50 for students and senior citizens.

Dinner-theatre packages are available at the Village Pub (312) 395-3373 and Struggles Restaurant (312) 395-9400.

WINNING TWIRLERS — Alyce's All Stars brought home all kinds of awards from the Sycamore Pumpkin Festival Baton Contest. Each girl above brought home a first place in addition to other awards. Meals fetes volunteers

Nov. 12-17, is National Meals-With-Wheels and Congregate Meals Week. Interfaith Community Services, Inc., and Catholic Charities in Lake County are joining Meals-With-Wheels and Congregate Meals programs in communities throughout the country in recognizing the importance of the volunteers and of the community programs in providing approximately 600 hot nutritious meals for the elderly per day.

Meal-With-Wheels, a service of Interfaith Community Services, Inc., is possible because of the over 800 volunteers, many of them who are themselves elderly. They pick up the hot meals at area hospitals, nursing homes and churches, and deliver them to homebound frail older people, five days a week during the noon hour.

This then provides a daily check on the well being of the participant, contact with the outside world for those who are alone and enables the older people to maintain their independence and thus avoid early and costly institutionalization.

Congregate Meals are served at the nine Senior Service Centers of Catholic Charities throughout Lake County. The senior participants have an opportunity for socialization and fellowship, in addition to meeting their nutritional needs.

The congregate meetings are non-denominational, offer extensive activities from craft workshops to bowling leagues to support groups.

The 815 volunteers in this meals program are all over 60 years of age themselves. Both of these programs provide special diets and no one is refused service if they are unable to pay.

For more information about the Congregate programs in Lake County, call Catholic Charities at (312) 249-3500 or their toll-free number, 1-800-942-3930. For the Meals-With-Wheels program, call Interfaith Community Services, Inc., at (312) 336-2777.

Shimer to hold essay contest

Scholarships ranging from $1,000 to $5,000 full year's tuition will be awarded to the best essays submitted by high school juniors and seniors in the Shimer College Scholarship Essay Contest.

The scholarships to Shimer College in Waukegan, will be awarded to the eight best essays addressing the question: "Is there a place for a classical education in a high-tech society?"

Posters and rules are being distributed to high schools primarily in northern Illinois and southeastern Wisconsin; however, the contest is open to any junior and senior.

Typed essays of 1,000 words or less must be submitted by Jan. 12, 1985, for judging by Shimer faculty. Winners will be announced by Feb. 12.

In addition to the scholarship prizes, Shimer College will present a gift of a 54 volume set of "The Great Books of the Western World," published by Encyclopaedia Britannica, to the high school attended.

Weddings

Mr. and Mrs. David J. Valentine

DeVries—Valentine

Valentine's Day in October was the theme when Colleen Joyce DeVries, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard F. DeVries of Antioch, married David Jack Valentine on Oct. 20. He is the son of Ardyce Valentine of Muskegon, Mich.

The groom-to-be proposed on Valentine's Day 1984. The Rev. Roger Sorensen solemnized the vows at the Antioch Evangelical Free Church.

The bride wore a gown of satin. The gown, which flowed to a cathedral train, carried the Valentine theme with a sweetheart neckline and was adorned with Alencon lace. She carried a bouquet of silk roses. She also carried a handkerchief her paternal grandmother, mother and sisters carried in their weddings.

Dianna DeVries was maid of honor for her sister, Amber Martin, niece of the bride; Dawn Hall and Diane Walsh completed the bride's party. The new Mrs. Valentine and Miss Walsh have been friends since they were in the first grade.

The maids wore red gowns, which also featured sweetheart necklines, and carried long-stemmed, white silk roses.

William Gillard performed the duties of best man for his wife's brother, Don Talbert, Todd Brandes and Jack Baseley were the other gentleman attendants.

Their black tuxedos were brightened by red bow ties and cummerbunds.

The new Mrs. Valentine is a 1978 graduate of Antioch Community High School and holds a bachelor of arts degree in journalism from Northern Illinois University, DeKalb.

She is news editor for both the Antioch Reporter and the Lake Villa Record, two of the Lakeland Newspapers. She also is editor for the Modern Family section of Lakeland Newspapers.

Her husband is a chief petty officer in the U.S. Navy. He is stationed at Great Lakes and serves as instructor supervisor in the Electronics Technician "A" School of the Service School Command, Great Lakes.

The couple were honored at a reception in Fosmark Hall at the church. The hall was adorned with Valentine decorations.

The couple went scuba diving at Grand Cayman Island during their honeymoon. They are at home in Lake Villa.

Dammann—Kwak

Two Antioch Community High School sweethearts were united in marriage by the Rev. James Merold at Prince of Peace Church in Lake Villa.

Luanne Marie Dammann approached the altar wearing a veil made by her sister Donna Dammann for her wedding to Darryl John Kwak. She is the daughter of Gerald and Raelene Dammann of Lindenhurst, and he is the son of Donald Kwak of Lindenhurst and Janet Burns of Chicago Ridge.

Sue Franco was her friend's matron of honor, and the bride's sisters, Donna Dammann, Nancy Dammann and Valerie Dammann, were bridesmaids. Donna Dammann also arranged the bouquets for the bride and her attendants.

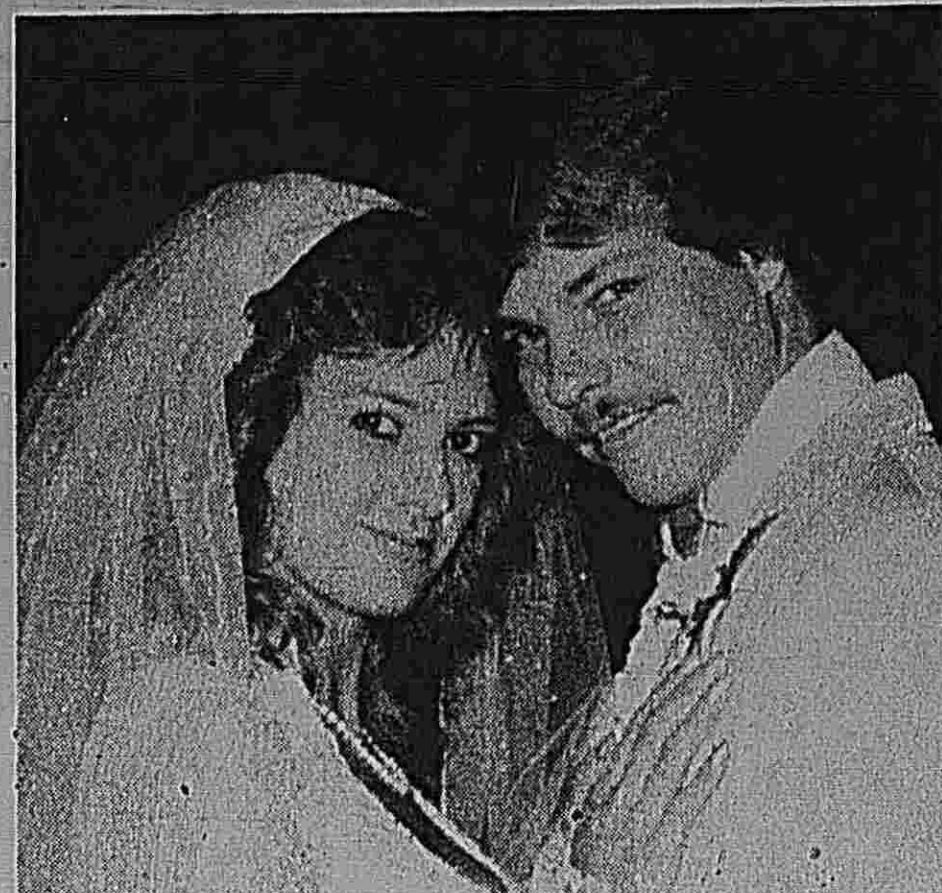

Mark Kuhfuss was his friend's best man, and Bob Erhardt, Steve Krutetz and Ron Kumpala were groomsmen. Alan Kwak, the groom's brother, and Bill Rentner were ushers.

Heather Vanover, cousin of the groom, and Devin Erhardt were flower girls.

The couple received guests at Maravela's and took a wedding trip to South Padre Island, Texas.

The bride is employed by Triangle Restaurant in Grayslake and is a 1980 graduate of Antioch Community High School. Her husband is a 1979 graduate of Antioch.

The couple is living in Lindenhurst.

Stewart joins staff

Kathy Stewart, previously of the Lake Villa District Library (Miss Kathy), has joined the Feelin' Fit staff.

Stewart has been assisting Debbie Larson with the current session of "Kids Fitness" and will continue to do so in the next class session. She also will teach the new pre-school enrichment program called "Building Blocks for Tots."

Stewart always has been active in athletics and fitness. She competed on the Antioch High School gymnastics team and has taught several gymnastics classes for children in the area. Stewart was employed at the library for eight years, working as the children's librarian for the past five years. She initiated many programs at the library, such as First Aid for Little People.

The next session of youth fitness classes begins the last week of October. Anyone interested in these classes may call (312) 356-9641.

Crime Stoppers search for stolen videos

According to Lake County Crime Stoppers, there are certain crimes that occur from time to time which require the involvement of every citizen in our community. There now exists a series of crimes which police believe to be committed by one person.

Since last August, there have been numerous home invasions and sexual assaults occurring in the northeastern part of the county. In each incident the same description has been given to the police by the victims.

The subject is described as a black, male, clean shaven, between five feet seven inches and five feet 10 inches tall and having a stocky build.

In the last two assaults a video cassette recorder was stolen from the house by the offender. The first video cassette recorder is a Sharp brand taken on Sept. 27, while the second video cassette recorder is a Fisher brand taken on Oct. 22.

If the offender is selling these recorders it is important for the person or persons, who have made such a purchase from a subject matching the description, to contact Lake County Crime Stoppers. Crime Stoppers will pay a cash reward of $1,000 for information leading to the arrest and indictment of this individual.

After the assault, which occurred during the early morning hours on Oct. 22, the offender took the victim's car from the driveway of the house. The incident occurred in the Beach Park area around 12:30 a.m. and the vehicle was found by the police at 5 a.m. in the area of 28th and Galilee, Zion. The vehicle is a tan over brown 1977 Pontiac Bonneville.

Anyone having information about these home invasions and sexual assaults should contact Lake County Crime Stoppers at (312) 663-2222. Anyone having one of the recorders will not be arrested as long as the person turns the recorder over to the police.

Make Today Count

Make Today Count, a support group for those whose lives have been touched by serious illness, will meet from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. Nov. 12 at Victory Memorial Hospital, 1324 N. Sheridan Rd., Waukegan.

There is no fee. Anyone interested in participating may come to a meeting without prior notice, or may call (312) 578-4148 for further information.

When black inventor, Benjamin Banneker, created the first American-made clock in 1754, he had never seen a clock before. His invention ran accurately, striking all hours regularly for 20 years.

PULP CAPPING

Pulp capping is a form of pulp therapy used when a cavity has progressed all the way down to the pulp chamber and a small bleeding communication with the chamber (called a pinpoint pulp exposure) is found.

Once the dentist is able to remove all decay, and the exposure is clean and probably free of decay germs, the opening can be "capped" or treated. This procedure causes certain pulp cells to secrete new calcium salts and these, in turn, seal the opening and permit the pulp to continue functioning as a living part of the tooth.

This form of pulp therapy has a good chance of succeeding if the exposed pulp is perfectly healthy, particularly in a young patient (up to age 20). Once treated, these teeth should be checked frequently for several years.

Something for everyone at Teacher Place

Teacher Place and Parent Resources, serving southeastern Wisconsin and northern Illinois, is celebrating the beginning of its ninth year.

As an independent non-profit organization, this is considered an impressive length of life in current economic times.

The center, open to the public, is not funded by the government, not funded by United Fund, or by any other group; but trends water financially with memberships, fundraisers, sales of materials, and nominal fees for some services.

Occasional grants for special projects have been received by private foundations, service organizations, and donations from individuals.

Special achievements include the publishing of two books of learning ideas, a one hour show on Milwaukee's Channel 18; the hosting of a national conference for educators and teacher center leaders; feature articles in many area newspapers; AP wire service distribution of a story about the center as far away as Hawaii and New York; helping many individual teachers to find just the right approach for their students; the networking of important and practical learning information across district and county lines; an article in Instructor Magazine which is a national publication that most elementary schools receive in addition to thousands of teachers, and the conducting of inservices and workshops for teachers, PTO groups, service organizations, and churches.

The center serves about 4,000 adults per year who in turn work with children, students, or other adults thus raising the number of people who benefit from Teacher Place and Parent Resources to 80,000.

The adults who visit the center for ideas, materials, planning, and workspace come from an 80-mile radius.

A visitor map in the entry way reveals that teachers and parents have come from six continents to date to use the center. A couple from Denmark, while visiting relatives in the area, spent time at the center gathering ideas and materials to use with patients back at the hospital where they work.

Most visitors are from the 10-county area and touch the lives of children and adults in many ways.

Fran and Paul Kielas, East Troy, recently brought their children to a family event of making headgear and hats. Family projects are offered as a time for families to work-play and learn together in a stimulating environment.

Rae Immenschuh, Union Grove, Teacher Place volunteer, said that the extensive variety of use is astounding, as she sighted the types of use.

These included a dentist, juvenile detention volunteer, substitute teachers, parents, scout leaders, 4-H leaders, education students, COD instructors, nursing home activity directors, principals, Montessori teachers, Southern Center staff, grandparents, school board members, business owners, librarians, technical school instructors, students, Sunday school teachers, writers, publishers, high school counselors, and service organizations.

Pat Anderson, teacher in the Delevan-Darien school system uses the center for teaching ideas as well as resources for her grandchildren, and for calligraphy projects. Round Lake teacher Ginny Larsen recommends parents and teachers use the center, and as members they can receive valuable free materials each month when they visit.

Established in 1976, the center has expanded resources steadily since then. "See is believing" is a true statement for visiting the informal 2,000 square foot environment.

It is filled with displays, materials, inspiration, learning curiosities, activities to try or create, challenging educational suggestions, quality craft projects, computer learning tools, places for visitors to work on projects, and a section of materials for purchase.

Visitors may have a poster or map laminated, use sign-making materials, browse through 10,189 extensive idea resources, examine models of projects, bag a big bagful of "recycle" materials, talk with staff about plans or problems, attend a workshop, utilize basic tools for building cardboard furniture, select books, or simply be revitalized by being with others who have similar interests in working with others.

Lois Reinfeldt, music teacher in Burlington, added that displays provide unlimited ideas, too.

The center is open for public use on Tuesday and Wednesdays, from 1 to 7 p.m. and Saturdays 10 to 4 p.m. Holiday and summer hours vary. A nominal $1 admission entitles visitors to use of ideas, many tools, some free materials, assistance, access to inexpensive project materials, and opportunities for do book binding.

Director Judith Schulz, extolled the importance of volunteers throughout the years which have kept the center alive. The director's position is still partially volunteer, also.

She indicated the pressing need for help in funding the center adequately, and seeks people who are interested in writing grants, conducting fundraisers, and contacting potential donors.

Interested volunteers gain experience and satisfaction from doing these important tasks.

Teacher Place and Parent Resources is located at 380 N. Pine St., Burlington, Wis. 53105. Tax-deductible donations are always welcome as well as donated goods and services.

Schulz stated a need for sponsors of the newsletter in amounts of $20 to $100, $150 sponsors of workshops, increased membership support of $20 to $250, and donated printing services.

The great composer, Richard Wagner, critics say, was never able to play any instrument well.

Strang Funeral Home of Antioch

FETE 50 YEARS — Mr. and Mrs. Dewel Walters, Antioch, celebrated 50 years of marriage at a party for friends and relatives at the Swedish Glee Club in Waukegan.

Obituaries

Doris Sankey

Funeral services for Doris Sankey, 64, of Antioch were held on Sunday, Nov. 11 at the Strang Funeral Chapel in Grayslake.

Sankey died on Thursday, Nov. 8 at Victory Memorial Hospital in Waukegan. She was born on Sept. 27, 1920 in Albion, Wis., and had made her home in Antioch for over 20 years.

She was a member of Calvary Baptist Church in Antioch, and had served as a WAC in the United States Army during World War II.

Survivors include two daughters, Sharon (Dennis) Vanderbloemen of Silver Lake, Wis., and Laura Sankey of Antioch; three sons, Roger (Gwen) of Lake Villa, Edison R. and Darryl W., both of Antioch; two grandchildren; three sisters; and three brothers.

Interment was at Highland Memorial Park in Libertyville.

Elsie Kroll

Funeral services with mass of Christian Burial for Elsie S. Kroll, 86, of Antioch was held on Tuesday, Nov. 13 in Antioch.

Kroll died on Thursday, Nov. 8 at Victory Memorial Hospital in Waukegan. She was born on March 8, 1898 in Chicago, and had lived in Berwyn, Ill. for many years before moving to Antioch in 1954.

She was a member of St. Peters Church of Antioch and also a member of A.A.R.P. of Antioch.

Survivors include one daughter, Ruth (William) Hucker of Lake Villa; one son, Fred E. (Clare) Kroll of Arkansas; one brother, Edward (Libby) Kocka of LaGrange, Ill.; and six grandchildren.

Interment was at Mount Auburn Memorial Park in Stickney, Ill.

Bowl to register

Antioch Bowling Lanes will hold an open house on Saturday, Nov. 17, from 3-5 p.m. in preparation for winter league registration. Bowlers will receive two free games of bowling, free rental shoes and a free glass of pop.

Any person signing up for winter leagues must pay the $4 registration fee at the time they sign up.

Leagues will start in December and will run until the middle of April. Weekly bowling fee is $3.50 which includes three games of bowling, rental shoes and a bowling shirt.

For further information call Antioch Bowling Lanes at (312) 395-1155.

CUB endorses 'affordable' energy payment plan

The Citizens Utility Board (CUB) voted unanimously on Nov. 5, to throw its support behind the "Affordable Budget Plan" — a program to restrict utility shut-offs.

Under the plan, households with income of 125 percent or less of the poverty level would not be shut off from gas or electric service, provided they pay 12 percent of their income in the winter months, and 12 percent of their income or their current bill, whichever is greater, in the summer months. The plan is currently awaiting approval before the Illinois Commerce Commission (ICC).

"CUB will ask the ICC to give the plan a one-year trial," stated Susan Stewart, administrative and program director for CUB.

"The problem of winter heat and summer cooling shut-offs is reaching crisis proportions, particularly in communities where unemployment is severe. The Affordable Budget Plan is the only program on the table that seriously addresses this problem."

A similar program was initiated in Ohio in 1983. "The plan has come under attack from Ohio utilities," said Stewart "but Ohio Public Utility Commission officials we've talked with question the validity of the utilities' assertions and figures."

The Ohio Public Utilities Commission is now working on a weatherization program which would reduce gas and electricity consumption in low income households and make the Affordable Budget Plan even more effective.

Last April, more than 123,000 households in Illinois faced shut-off of utility service. Federal programs to assist low income families pay their heating bills ran out of funds by April.

"CUB is besieged with calls for help from consumers seeking ways to reconnect their utility service before the severe winter cold sets in," Stewart said. "The Affordable Budget Plan would provide a means for many of those families to get reconnected."

CUB joins more than 100 consumer and civic groups statewide who support the Affordable Budget Plan. The final phase of hearings on the proposal are slated for the end of November, with a decision expected in December.

WE INTERRUPT THIS NEWSPAPER FOR SOME GOOD NEWS.

CHICAGO—Commonwealth Edison has announced that electric rates have gone down for the winter.

Starting the first time a customer's meter is read after September 15, the rate will drop from 10.5¢ per kilowatthour to 9.1¢.

However, anyone using over 400 kilowatthours—most Commonwealth Edison customers exceed this amount—will benefit even more.

Beyond the 400-kwh mark, the rate will decrease again, sharply, to only 4.3¢ per kilowatthour consumed. This represents the lowest electric rate Commonwealth Edison customers have been asked to pay in almost 5 years.

Clearly, the potential for savings is enormous, and good news indeed.

ACHS tells 'Secret'

Be among those who discover "Lady Audley's Secret" when it is revealed on the stage of Antioch Community High School this coming Friday and Saturday at 8 p.m. and Sunday evening at 7:30 p.m.

The play is intended as a valentine to a period and a theatre which have all but disappeared. "Lady Audley's Secret" is an authentic 19th century melodrama which has been adapted by George Seale into a musical. However, the author, composer and lyricist have attempted to enter into the spirit of the period, and have drawn upon its musical and dramatic conventions in an effort to recapture the flavor, attitude and platitudes of Victoria's England.

Starring in the show are 18 very talented high school actors directed by Ken Smouse. Leading the cast in the title role is Wendy Fabry. In other leading roles are Kara Smith as Phoebe, Ted Jennings as Luke, Dave Ropa as Sir Michael, Sue Lapera as Alicia, Christopher J. Waters as Capt. Robert Audley and Dennis D. Tracy as George Talboys.

The supporting cast is made up of Tina Garepis, Erik Hansen, Brenda Hannigan, Phil Fabry, Norman Pomrenning, Mitch Young, Dina Byrd, Jenny Ellquist, Jenny Chesla and Christine Keuhn.

Heidi Reulbach is the all-important stage manager with Nicole Kapell as her assistant. Clare Gilliland is assistant director. Former Antioch student Christina Lindberg has done the musical direction for the show and Kris-Ann Hartnet, also a former drama student at Antioch, has done the choreography.

Tickets are available from members of the cast.
